Improved Uniform International Lesson

Lesson for April 6

THE LAW OF THE CROSS

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 23:1-12. GOLDEN TEXT—If any man will save his soul, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. PRIMARY TOPIC—Proving our Love for Jesus.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Denying Self for Christ. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Cross-bearing in the Christian life.

The lesson topic is narrower than the Scripture text. It includes Christ taking account of His ministry, Peter's confession, Christ's prediction concerning His death and His teaching concerning the cost of discipleship.

1. Christ, the King, Taking Account of His Ministry (vs. 13-17).

It was at Caesarea Philippi, the head of the Jewish territory, that Jesus said to His disciples:

2. The King in Christ's Ministry (vs. 18-23).

The King had already been rejected. They had heard Him say that He would die for them, and they had seen Him die.

3. Peter's Confession (vs. 23-28).

At this point in the lesson, the teacher should ask the question: "What was Peter's confession?"

4. Christ's Prediction (vs. 28-31).

Christ predicted His death and resurrection. He said: "The Son of Man must be crucified, and after three days be raised again."

5. The Cost of Discipleship (vs. 31-38).

Jesus said: "Whoever will follow me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me."

6. The Cross-bearing (vs. 38-40).

Jesus said: "Whoever will save his life, let him lose it; and whoever will lose his life for my sake, he will save it."

7. The Kingdom of God (vs. 40-43).

Jesus said: "The Kingdom of God is within you."

8. The Final Judgment (vs. 43-46).

Jesus said: "Whoever is not with me, nor my Father, who is with the Father, he will be cast out."

9. The Final Judgment (vs. 46-48).

Jesus said: "Whoever is not with me, nor my Father, who is with the Father, he will be cast out."

10. The Final Judgment (vs. 48-50).

Jesus said: "Whoever is not with me, nor my Father, who is with the Father, he will be cast out."

FOREST VIEW.

The weather continues cold, with heavy frosts. Some of the wheat looks as if fire had gone over it, due to the dry weather and frost.

Mr. T. J. Nash has been visiting his son, W. T. Nash.

Mrs. W. C. Lee and little Catherine spent the greater part of last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Martin.

Her niece, Verta Sims, of Lynchburg, spent last week with her.

Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Marshall and baby, Dorothy Smith, spent last Sunday with his sisters, Mrs. Pauline Cooke, in Charlotte.

William Ford, of V. P. I., spent last week-end with his home folks.

We are glad to see Mrs. W. T. Nash out again after a severe spell.

Miss Lillie Haar started last Saturday for an extended visit to Pennsylvania to visit her relatives. She went by the way of Washington, where she spent the night with friends, then on to Baltimore, where her niece has been in hospital for several months. She, with other relatives, took her niece home, to the delight of her many friends around here and at her home, to know she is entirely well after such a long spell.

Mr. Z. M. Jones and family visited his children in Richmond last week-end.

Mr. W. D. Marshall and son, De Witt, were expecting to begin the Reed Spring work today, repairing, painting, etc. Sunday school will begin their next Sunday.

Appomattox has lost a good woman in the death of Miss Lillie Inge. She was always ready to help any one in need, and it has been said: "More people had participated in her hospitality and she had furnished more free meals than any person in the county." And as she said, "The Lord had been good to her." We extend to her relatives our sympathy.

Mr. and Mrs. De Witt Marshall and baby were recent visitors in the home of her father, Jim Caldwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jordan and children visited her sick uncle, Howard Marshall, last Saturday. We hope Howard will soon be well enough to take up his duties.

The many friends of Miss Anne Martin, whose home is in Petersburg, but so well known in this county, will be glad to learn she is well enough to go around in her room after a severe spell of heart trouble, which was caused by "flu."

Mrs. T. H. Ford continues not so well.

Mr. N. D. Marshall is still suffering with his hands—rheumatism.

The news was sad to learn Hudson Jennings was in such a critical condition in the hospital in Lynchburg.

We hope Mr. T. W. Moses is much better by now.

It was sad to learn of the sudden death of Mr. J. R. Lee, at Evergreen. We extend to the sick wife and children our sympathy in their sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Sims and little Ethel, of Lynchburg, spent last Sunday night and Monday in the home of R. W. Martin. Mrs. Sims visited in the home of her brother, J. A. Martin, Monday.

EVERGREEN

We are sorry to hear that the condition of Mr. Hudson Jennings is not so favorable. He has been in the Baptist Hospital in Lynchburg for several weeks.

We are sorry to hear of the death of Mr. Lee.

There is always a fellow smarter than he really is.

TRUE LOVER LEAVES DOWRIES TO BRIDES

Thirteen Girls Get $200 Under Old Bequest.

Baton Rouge, La.—Back in the eighteenth century when Louisiana was a mysterious region of swamps and bayous and forests, a young man made love to a girl who lived along the Mississippi.

She would not marry because she was too poor to bring him a dowry. But to his death at the age of eighty-four he remained faithful to her memory. And his will provided that the interest from $50,000 should be divided annually among the worthy brides of his loved one's home town in Louisiana.

Recently the policy jury, which corresponds to the county supervisors or commissioners in other states, of West Baton Rouge parish allotted close to $200 each to 13 girls who married within the last year.

Came From Brittany.

It was their dowry. A Frenchman, Julien Boyard, a boy from Nantes, Brittany, who came to this country in 1788 after colonial years before the war.

He peddled odds and ends up a simple life, and he worked hard. Not strange, for he was a Frenchman, and he had a lot of money.

Honors, too, came to this adventurer. He was the person of Lynchburg, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ranson.

COLORED FOLK.

Katie Haskins, of New York, is home with her little niece and nephew visiting her parents.

It is reported that Neolia Dabney and John H. Beasley were married in Washington, D. C., last month.

Rosa Lewis lost three hogs last week.

Emma, Kathleen, Hazel and Adolphine Pankey, who were all sick at the same time with measles, are better.

Edward Megginson is very sick.

Rev. Barbour preached at the Springfield Baptist Church Sunday. There was a nice crowd present and the sermon rendered was much enjoyed.

The Sunday school will be reorganized the first Sunday. We hope to have a large crowd at Springfield.

Thomas D. Schall

U. S. Senator from Minnesota.

Whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth—Hebrews 12:6.

Comment: In the first year of my illness I often wished that He had not loved me so much, but through the chastening of the Lord I realize the truth. I no longer pray "Take the cup from me," but accept the light for life as it is presented to me. After twenty-one years of darkness I wouldn't trade the understanding that has come to me for all the eyes in the world.

I entered the forest of darkness untrained, unhelped, grasping, selfish. I came out of that darkness when understanding became my light, when I learned to bear disappointment, when I had comprehended to do the thing that was to be done for love of the cause and not for self-gratification. When I became interested in the work there was to be done, without considering whether the result would help me or not—though in the doing of the thing that would not help me I was most helped—I began to understand what Christ meant when He said, "Whoever will save his life, let him lose it."

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Sims and little Ethel, of Lynchburg, spent last Sunday night and Monday in the home of R. W. Martin. Mrs. Sims visited in the home of her brother, J. A. Martin, Monday.

Judge Nabbed on Hunting Violation Fines Self $10

West Plains, Mo.—A judicial action in which the prisoner, the prosecutor and the justice were the same person occurred here when C. L. Baker, justice of peace, was arrested by J. D. Hagan, deputy game warden, for killing opening out of season. Prosecutor Baker questioned Baker, the justice, who was found guilty by Justice Baker and fined $10 to the game warden.

U. S. MAKES DRIVE ON COUNTERFEITERS

Secret Service Men Round Up 138 Suspects.

Washington—Secret service, aided by local police, made 138 arrests in the country last month for counterfeiting. This is a record for one month, the evidence of the vigor with which the campaign against counterfeiting is being conducted. Most of the counterfeiting is in $5 and $10 bills, all of which are declared by experts to be only fair work.

The bills are passed in small communities and in the suburbs or near the banks and big business houses, which promptly handle them up for deposit or to be sent to Washington for redemption with the result that the counterfeiters are not often detected before reaching Washington. In the opinion of the experts they should be.

"Concealment of the current circulation in counterfeit," said W. H. Morris, chief of the secret service.

"We use quicker action in bringing counterfeiters to trial and longer jail sentences. Counterfeiting is the most despicable business in the world, if successful, it is always an innocent person who suffers and it may be his last cent in the world."

Moran emphatically denied the smaller point money now in use in this country has anything to do with the increase in counterfeiting. "A counterfeit bill is counterfeit," he said, "it is no easier to counterfeit a small bill than a large one. The fact that the Presidents are the same size on both the old and new bills and that part of the bill is the most difficult for any counterfeiter to imitate."

The rapidly with which the counterfeiters are being arrested, and the success of the campaign, is the belief that no counterfeiter can hope to escape the law now.

Will Free Slave.

The will of Julius Ford, ordered that all of his slaves be freed within 25 years, and it gave money to schools, hospitals and charitable organizations.

But the bequest had been remembered in the case of the estate of the late Mrs. Ford, who died in 1912.

To them Julius Ford was more than a great Louisiana—he was a man who appreciated the power of a girl who must come down to her husband.

Hawaiian Coffee Crop Doubled in Six Years

Honolulu.—The coffee industry of Hawaii, centered in the Kona district of the big island, has approximately doubled during the last six years. The increase is due to the fact that the Hawaiian coffee crop is now being marketed in the United States.

The crop for the past season amounted to 6,000,000 bags, which is a factor in the Kona district of the big island, has approximately doubled during the last six years.

French Peasants Like Dish of Boiled Snakes

Paris.—French peasants are very curious things but snakes are about the most unusual item on their menu.

Henri G. Lee, an American tourist in France, in a letter to the editor of the Paris Tribune, tells of attending a snake feast near Nice.

Lee was in the Alpes Maritimes and during a walk found a small snake. He asked a peasant to buy the snake, and the peasant readily took them, skinned them, cut them up into small pieces and put them in a pot to boil. Lee declares he refused to join in the meal.

According to good authority the peasants near Rennes, in Brittany, consider boiled snakes, which are very much like American rattlesnakes, as a delicacy.

'05 Model Horse Barges $50 as Trade-in on Car

St. Louis, Mo.—Old Dobbin enjoyed a horse laugh at the used automobile barge.

A horse and buggy, both 100 years old, were traded in on a new automobile, brought an allowance of $50.

"And now," inquired the salesman, "do you wish to trade in your old horse?"

The old horse was permitted to roam the vacant lot around the dealership.

Twenty-Year-Old Goose Protects Doctor's Auto

Martinsburg, Mo.—A giant goose, given to Dr. U. S. G. Arnold of this city 20 years ago as a part payment for his services, is his household pet and guardian of his automobile.

Chinese Bandits Steal Telephone Wires

Nanking, China.—Minnesota folk thought they had found an enterprising thief when it was discovered that several hundred feet of wire had been stolen from the telephone lines.

Chinese bandits are now cutting the telephone wires in the district of nationalistic China.

Costs Penny to Ring Bell in Amsterdam

Amsterdam.—Amsterdam housewives are delighted with a device that has enabled the constant ringing of doorbells by pushers and beggars.

Many have installed slot machines on their doorbells. You drop a penny and ring the bell. If the visitor is welcome, the penny is returned. A benevolent government has agreed to manufacture slots for the use of postmen.

Survey Shows Type of Boy Findlay Cools Like

Findlay, Ohio.—Boys who dress neatly are athletic, honor their parents and are not addicted to promiscuous smoking are the ideals which Findlay Cools, Inc., is seeking.

According to the results of a recent survey made by Miss Martha Lacey, president of the N. W. C. A.

Cheese Hound Robs Truck of Sweitzer

Boston, Mass.—A cheese hound is abroad in Pittsfield and Police Officer William Dunn has been searching for the animal.

A truck loaded with groceries was standing in front of a store while its owner was inside when this dog appeared on the scene.

The cheese hound was in the rear of the truck and after a hurried search among a number of grocery packages, he nosed out a large package of Sweitzer cheese and ran.
